

The Investigation Solution

Leading transformation in the conduct of investigations

Document review and analysis is a vital aspect of an investigation, but is notoriously time consuming and expensive.

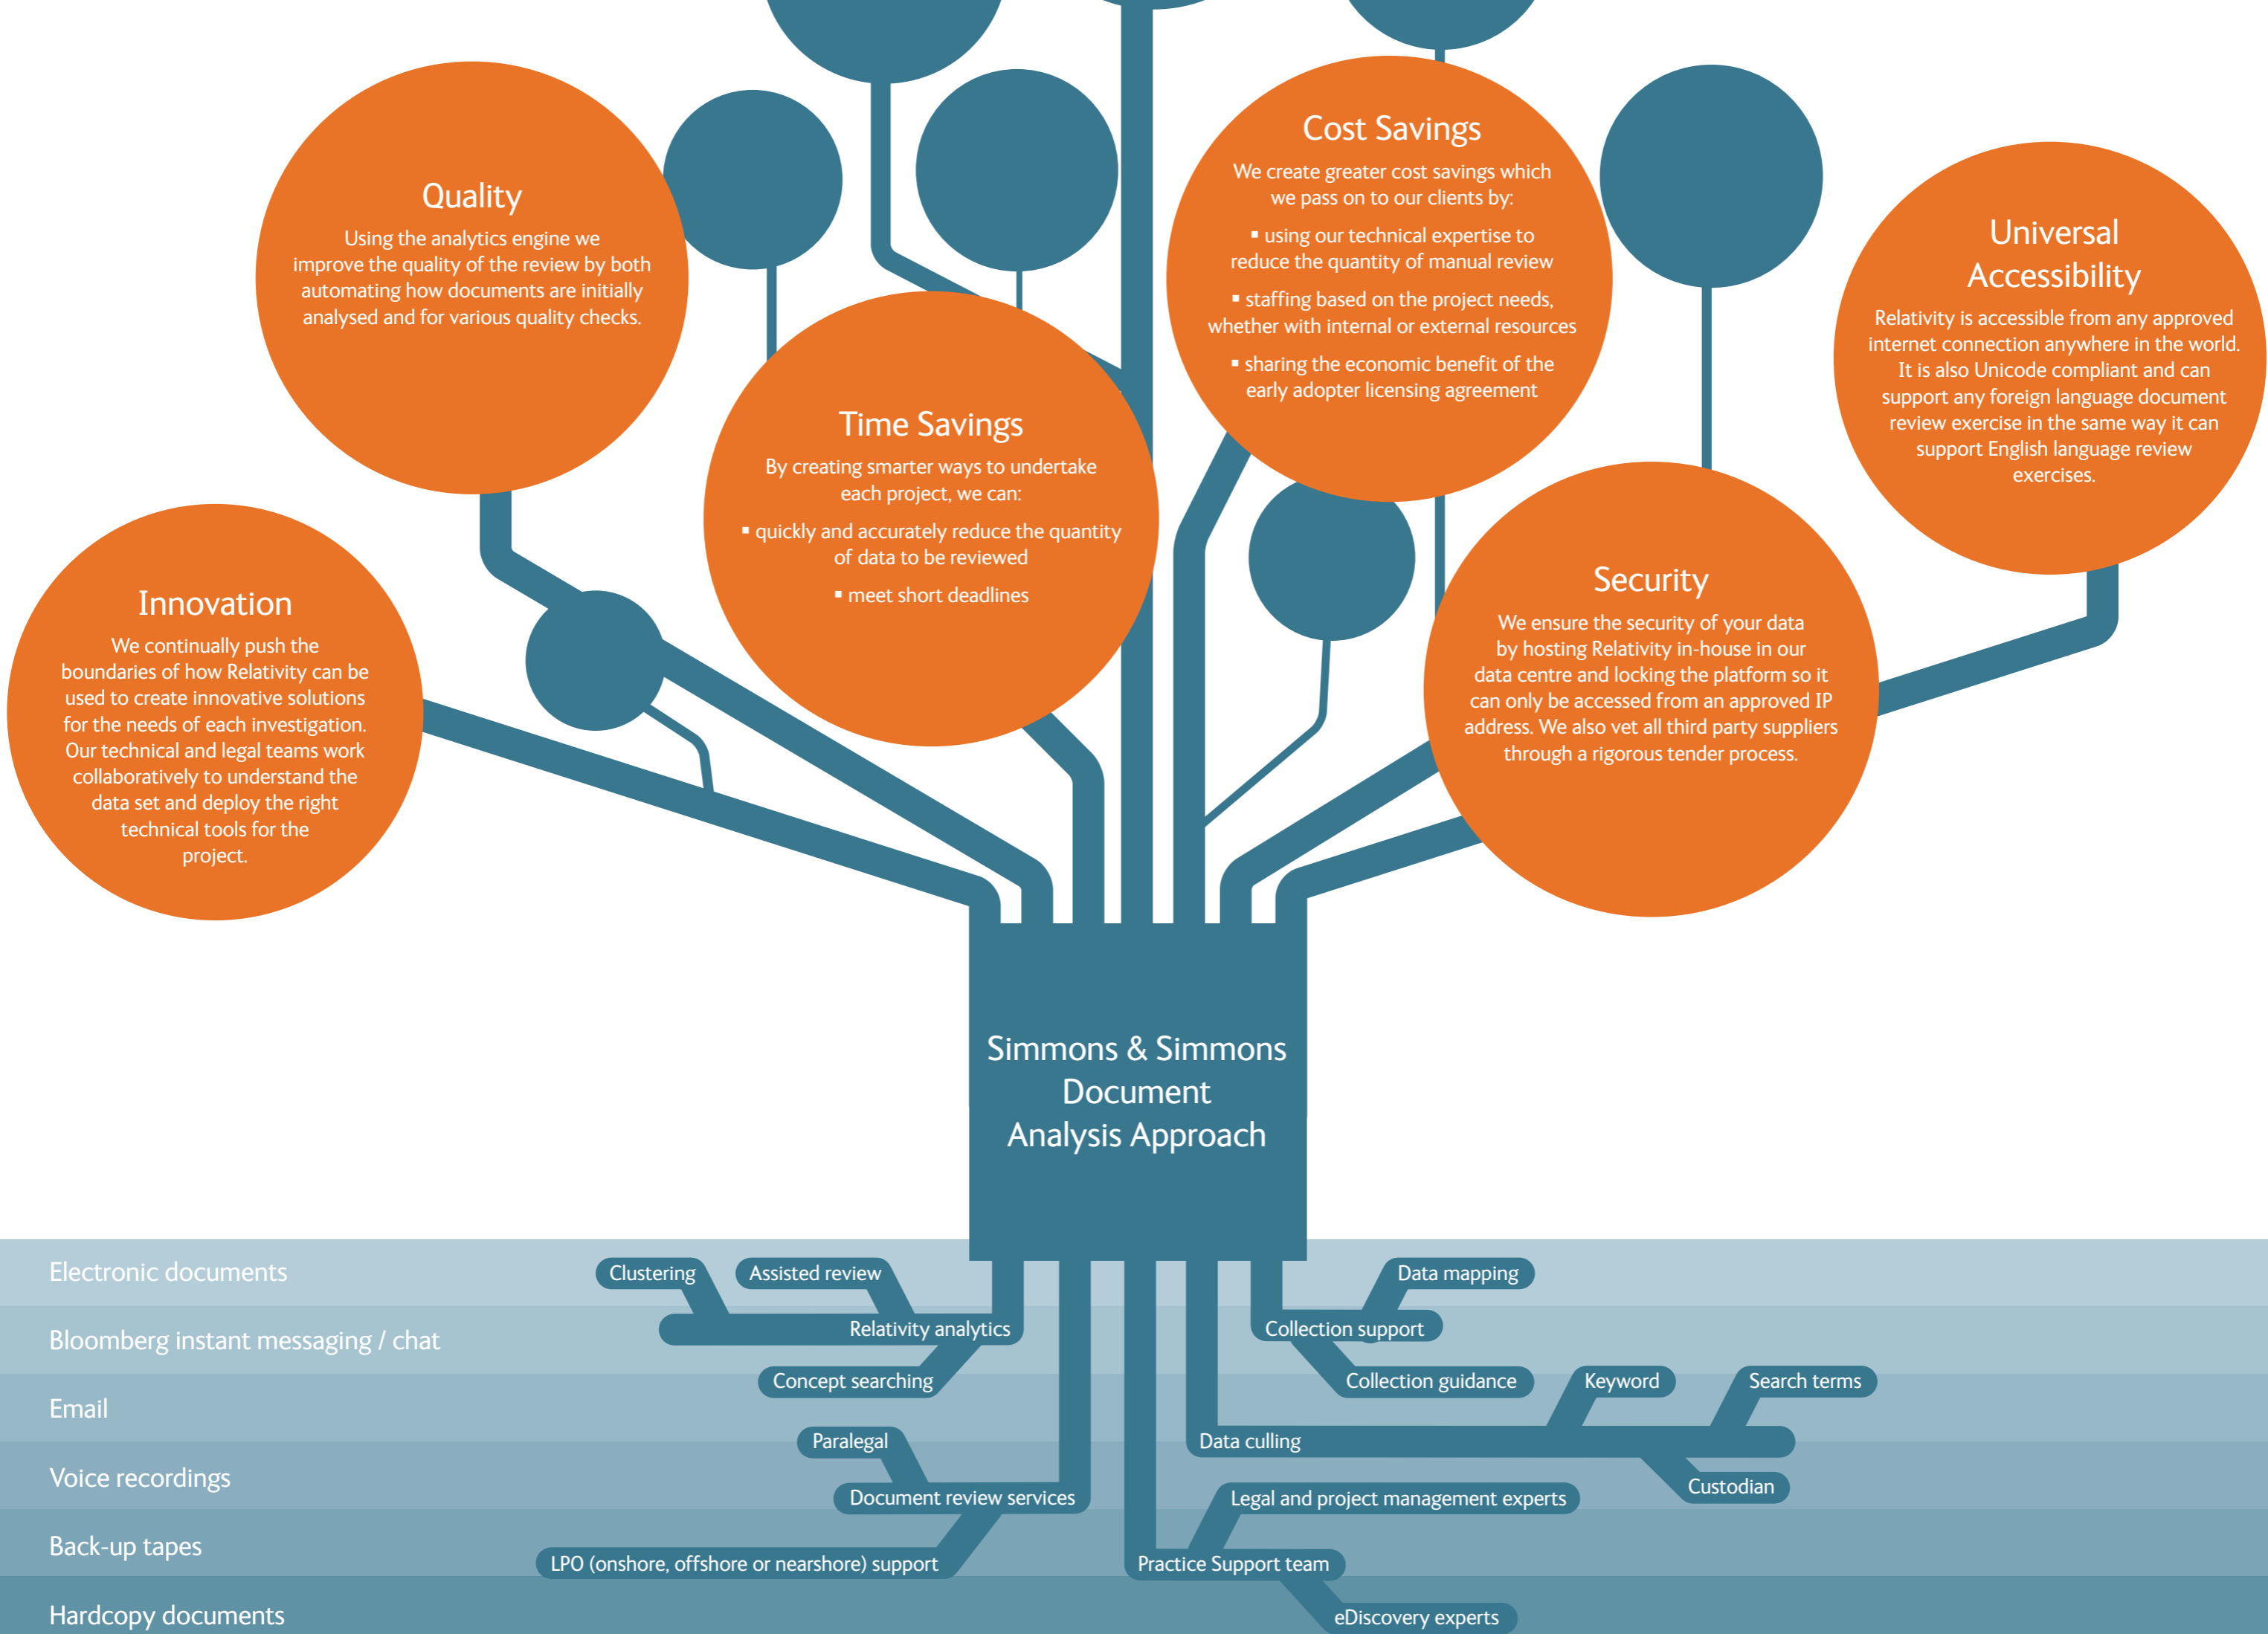

Simmons & Simmons has developed a solution that results in a higher quality investigation with more reliable output while also saving time and money.

As one of the first law firms to bring the document review platform, Relativity®, in house and build an integrated team of technical and legal experts, we are years ahead of the market in our approach to regulatory and internal investigations. Working with the Simmons & Simmons legal team, our technical experts provide an end to end solution that is tailored to your specific goals and needs. This includes utilising different review options, different technologies, and adapting or creating new processes.

The benefits of working with Simmons & Simmons are:

- Innovative solutions
- Higher quality
- Time savings
- Cost savings
- Security
- Universal accessibility

We saved a financial institution over 75% of the cost of analysing documents for a particular issue by using Relativity's Analytics and our integrated team's technical abilities.

About the Team

The Practice Support team is made up of qualified lawyers, project management professionals and technical consultants. It is overseen by Caroline Hunter-Yeats, Partner in the Dispute Resolution group.

Caroline has a wealth of experience in managing large scale disputes with over 10 years of experience using electronic review platforms. She has been responsible for the Practice Support function since 2012 and had previously overseen the firm's dedicated LPO team based in Mumbai. In 2009, Caroline was seconded to the wealth management division of a high street bank where she headed up the litigation function. This has given her an in-depth insight into the challenges faced by in-house counsel and how external lawyers can best support them.

Loren Harper

Head of Practice Support

E loren.harper@simmons-simmons.com

Loren Harper has over ten years of experience at international firms in both Australia and the UK and heads the Practice Support team at Simmons & Simmons. She is legally qualified and admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of NSW and is responsible for delivering a suite of services to the firm including managing and overseeing the life cycle of electronic discovery projects, online document management (on contentious and non-contentious matters) and document review services. Loren has extensive experience in the management of large, multi-jurisdictional, complex and high profile document collation, management and review exercises. Loren is well known and highly respected within the industry and often speaks at conferences on eDiscovery developments.

Kiran Patel

Practice Support Senior Manager

E kiran.patel@simmons-simmons.com

Kiran has been working in the fields of electronic discovery and computer forensics for over seven years in both the US and the UK. He holds a Masters of Science in Digital Forensics and Cybersecurity from John Jay College in New York and is a Certified Encase Examiner as well as a Relativity Certified Administrator. Throughout his career, Kiran has worked closely with law firms on litigation/civil matters as well as police and federal authorities in criminal forensic matters both in the US and the UK. Kiran worked with our internal teams and clients on establishing a workflow for managing large volumes of data calling on his computer forensic expertise to matters requiring more in-depth analysis. Kiran was recently invited back to John Jay College to present a seminar focusing on the fundamental differences and similarities on electronic discovery and computer forensics.
